GREEN BAY WHIPS DETROIT LIONS

GAME RECAP (GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE)

(MILWAUKEE) - Outlasting the Detroit Lions in another unbelievably hard fought football game, the Green Bay Packers hoisted themselves into second place in the Western division of the NFL here Sunday afternoon. The score was 13 to 9, and the Packers rallied to achieve it. When the first half ended here yesterday, with Green Bay on the short end of a 3 to 0 score after decisively outplaying the Lions throughout the opening periods, backers of the team thought they were seeing a repetition of the Packers' defeat by the Cardinals the previous week. That's just where everyone made a big mistake. Rolling back from the half with a splendidly maneuvered offensive, the Bays drove down into Detroit territory enough times for Don Hutson to score a touchdown, Ernie Smith to kick an extra point and big Tar Schwammel, again a star of stars in the line, to pound two long placements home from the field. The Packer backs clicked with regularity during the game, with George Sauer and Clarke Hinkle looking particularly impressive on defense. The backfield was tight as a drum on pass defense. Although the Green Bay line play was at its best of the season, possibly the most consistent performers - the ones who remained for the greater portion of the game - were Schwammel, Walt Kiesling, Milt Gantenbein, Mike Michalske, Ernie Smith and Nate Barragar. That second half was one of the most thrilling ever witnessed by any of the 8,500 fans who enjoyed a mild autumn afternoon at State fair park stadium.

CLARK KICKS GOAL

Dutch Clark put the issue right up to the Packers late in the first period, when he booted a field goal from the 43-yard line - a brilliant dropkick which sailed well above the bar. As on the previous Sunday, the Packers drove back time and time again, but Bob Monnett could not click on two field goal attempts, and when the half had ended the score was 3 to 0 in the wrong direction. Almost immediately after the turn of the half, affairs began to change. The Bays took the ball on the kickoff, and soon punted out. Skirmishing just across midfield, the Lions failed to pick up satisfactory yardage on three line plays, and Frank Christensen went back in punt formation. The Packer line surged through upon the kicker, and Schwammel leaped into the air, deflecting the ball in a crazy way back toward the Detroit goal.

AWAY GOES HUTSON

The one person on the field that the Packers wanted to be near that ball landed on it - Don Hutson. With the Lions desperately breaking toward the bounding oval, Schwammel and Hutson reached it first. Tar wheeled and lunged into the nearest two or three Lions with a savage block, while Hutson scooped up the ball shortstop fashion and was off from the 25-yard line - a green and gold streak smoking down the sidelines to the Detroit goal. Ernie Smith carefully kicked the extra point, giving the Packers a 7 to 3 lead, which as it later developed, wasn't enough. Schwammel got the first of his long placements midway in the third period, a husky boot from the 38-yard line with Herber holding the ball, and that sent the Packers into the lead by 10 to 7. A wrecking crew performance by Detroit at the start of the fourth period chased Ernie Caddel around left end for a touchdown, and it looked like a tie, but Dutch Clark, the ever-reliable, muffed the kick for extra point and the Lions trailed 9 to 10.

KICKS ANOTHER GOAL

To make it safer, Schwammel kicked another goal in the fourth period, this time from the 41-yard line, and the Lions then needed a touchdown to win. Trying desperately to achieve the score by passes, they bumped into an airtight pass defense, and when the game ended Clarke Hinkle was blazing away through the Detroit line on the Lions' 4-yard stripe. The first half was a tough one for the Packers to swallow. They outrushed the Lions constantly, and most of the tackles achieved by the Detroit team went to men backing up the line. Still, the Bays lacked a scoring punch. They got into hot water early in the period, when Hinkle fumbled and Parker picked up the ball on the Green Bay 23-yard line, Parker getting away to the 5-yard stripe, where Michalske knocked him down. Parker went through right tackle for three yards, but the threat was smothered when Gantenbein fell on Parker's fumble on the Packer 2-yard line. Sauer punted out to Clark, who was dropped by Michalske and Gantenbein on the Packer 34-yard line. One line play and two passes failed to accomplish anything, and Clark, standing on the Green Bay 43-yard line, kicked his impressive drop.

SAUER PUNTS WELL

The punting of George Sauer, which kept the Lions backed up all afternoon, gave the Packers a good start on the second period, when a kick went out of bounds on the Detroit 9-yard stripe. Frank Christensen's return punt was taken by Arnie Herber and hauled back to the Detroit 36-yard marker, and a pass over center, Herber to Hutson, made it first down on the 23 1/2 yard line. Herber aimed a pass at Sauer over the left side of the line, which went incomplete, and Hinkle with a terrific lunge through right guard, landed on the Detroit 12 1/2 yard line, first down. Hinkle gained only two and a half yards on a pair of line plays, Herber's pass to Hutson gained only two yards and, with Herber holding the ball, Monnett's attempt at field goal from the 17 yard line was low and to the right of the posts. Near the end of the half, the Packers were down in scoring position again, getting there when Monnett's forward pass to Herber was downed on the Detroit 27 1/2 yard line. Hinkle ripped through to the 25-yard stripe, making it first down, but Herber's forward pass over the right side of the line to Bruder was nearly intercepted by Caddel. Other passes failed, and a Detroit penalty put the ball on the 20-yard line, third down. Hinkle banged through for four yards and Bruder hit center for one yard and a first down on the 15-yard stripe. Herber passed over center to Bruder, who was dropped by Frank Christensen for another first down. Less than a minute remained to play, Hinkle got two yards at left tackle, Parker stopping him, and Monnett was halted cold at right tackle.

HURRY INTO FORMATION

With a few seconds left, the Packers hurried back into placekick formation, and Monnett's boot from the 12-yard line hit the cross bar, rebounding onto the playing field as the half ended. Hutson's touchdown provided the fireworks as play was resumed in the third period. A few minutes after he scored he nearly did the trick again, Herber's long pass bouncing off his fingers as he galloped toward the goal line in Detroit's territory. It was the first pass Hutson had missed in his entire football career. Some line smacking by Swede Johnston carried the ball to the Detroit 36-yard line, and then the Packers chased Sauer out on a wing back, Johnston going through center on the fake to the 25 1/2 yard line. Herber's forward pass to Hutson over the right side of the line was incomplete, and another short toss by Herber, this time to the left, failed to hit Goldenberg. Herber and Schwammel stepped back to the 38-yard line, and with the former holding the ball Tar booted a perfect placement. Detroit retaliated with a lashing ground attack that carried the ball down into Green Bay country. Clark and Gutowsky alternated on running plays, until the Lions made it first down on the Packer 36-yard line.

PACKERS MISS CADDEL

Caddel, streaming around left end, was missed by several Packer tacklers, and attained a first down on the Green Bay 26-yard line. Hinkle and Rose stopped Clark after a 1-yard gain, and Clark's forward pass to Caddel to the right bounced off Ernie's fingers. Clark tried to pass, got in the clear and broke through for a first down on the 13-yard line. Half a dozen Packers broke through to smear Caddel for a loss of 5 1/2 yards, Clark's forward was incomplete and Kiesling came in fast to block Nott's pass. Clark attempted a dropkick from the 27-yard line, but the try failed, and Sauer punted out. As the fourth period opened a forward pass from Nott to Caddel brought the ball to the Green Bay 13-yard line, and on the next play Clark was smeared for a yard loss at right tackle by Rose and Michalske. Away went Caddel. He ran fast around left end, smacked through two Packer tacklers and crossed the line standing up for a touchdown, but Clark missed the extra point. Sauer sent a punt into the pocket a few minutes later, when the Packers didn't risk trying to make an inch for first down. The kick went out of bounds on the Detroit 12 1/2 yard line.

BRUDER SNAGS PASS

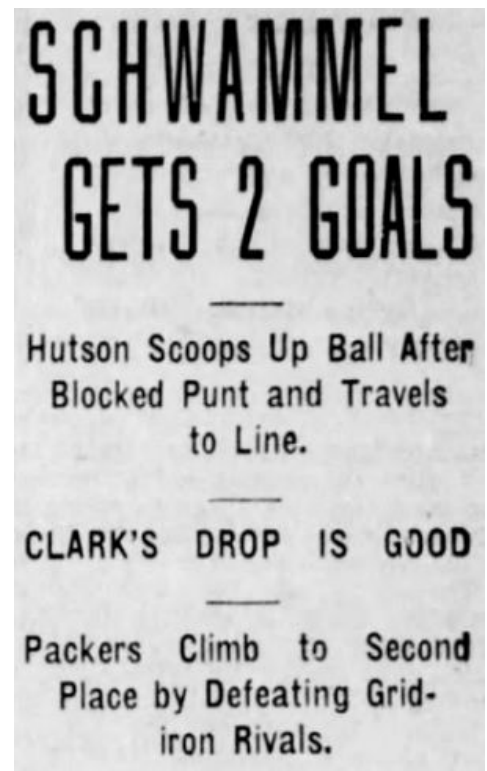

The Lions failed to get out of the hole. Nott threw a forward pass, which Bruder hooked off on the Detroit 34-yard line, and, after Sauer and Laws barely failed to make a first down, Schwammel went into action again, kicking his second goal from the 41-yard line. Schwammel then kicked off to Clark, who was tackled by Ernie Smith and dropped the ball, Barragar recovering and returning to the Detroit 31-yard line. A penalty for holding set the Bays back 15 yards, and Sauer's punt was downed by Michalske on the Detroit 8-yard line. The Lions lost it right way, when Hupke, an ineligible receiver, took Vaughan's forward pass on the Detroit 8-yard line, the ball going to the Packers. Sauer gained three yards at right tackle, but Hinkle fumbled, Randolph recovering for Detroit on the 6-yard line. The Lions' passes failed, and Green Bay took the ball on the Detroit 18-yard line. Hinkle was stopped at right tackle, Monnett added a few yards at left tackle, and Hinkle broke through to the Detroit 4-yard line as the game ended.

Pro Football Makes Friends in Milwaukee

PRO FOOTBALL MAKES FRIENDS IN MILWAUKEE

OCT 21 (Milwaukee Journal) - Milwaukee has shown, on the last two Sundays, that it will support a team in the National Pro Football league. The city once had a fine pro team but let it starve to death. Whether it can get another chance or will have to be satisfied to share the Packers with Green Bay remains to be seen. Right now the machinery is in motion for an attempt to get a franchise in the league for next season. Certainly the Packers' game with the Cardinals a week ago and the game with the Detroit Lions Sunday was well worth the price of admission. The 20,000 or more spectators who turned out were rewarded with a fine, hard brand of football. Both games were packed with thrills, particularly the Detroit game. Things happened so fast you were likely to miss something good if you turned your head. The Packers have made pro football fans here the last two seasons with their occasional visits to State Fair park. Staunch adherents of the varsity game have made comments to me which show that they are beginning to appreciate the clean, hard, efficient game of the pros. The blocking is better, certainly harder, than in the usual college game, yet often fails to take out the man for the pros fend off or evade blockers. The maneuvering of that sort often is as interesting to watch as the progress of the ball. The movie strip of Hinkle's fumble in column one of this page shows Laws apparently taken out of Parker's path to the goal by Caddel but evading the block sufficiently to trip the runner. The pros seldom lose their heads. They think fast, probably almost instinctively after so much football experience. Parker, for instance, did not hesitate an instant after picking up the fumble and other Lions took in the situation at a glance and moved in to block for him. Again, after Schwammel blocked Christensen's punt, the action was like lightning. It didn't take Hutson a fraction of a second to make up his mind after he got his hands on the ball. Again, when a Packer kickoff bounced backward, a Green Bay man whose number I did not catch recognized opportunity in a flash. It was an onside kick and as the ball settled in his arms he was off like a streak for the Detroit goal only to be stopped within a few yards.

HINKLE BACK IN THE THICK OF BATTLE WITH OLD-TIME PEP

OCT 21 (Green Bay) - They packed about 8,500 persons in the park yesterday to watch the game. The count was more accurate than that of a week ago, when several announcements estimated a 13,000 crowd at about 18,000...The public address system functioned smoothly. Frank Bebbor is at the microphone with a man on either side to call the plays. A third helper walks up and down the sidelines and reports the exact position of the ball and losses and gains...Detroit's uniforms of blue and silver are obviously designed for night football. They make a flashy appearance at any time, however, and for the first half of the game they were three points more noticeable than the green...Fears about Clark Hinkle's injury slowing him up on the field were dispelled after about three plays of the game. Both the Lions and the fans learned that he runs just as hard as ever, and cracks his tacklers with the same old drive...Buddy Parker of Centenary college, whose name didn't even get on the program, was one of the Lions' outstanding backs. He was sent to Detroit by Cal Hubbard, who says that he wouldn't have fit into the Packer type of backfield. He is the old driving type, says Cal, and would be all out of place in a fast spinning type of play...Hank Bruder's blocking again was one of the highlights of play. Several times he left his feet in spectacular manner to crack down some would-be tackler. His defensive play in backing up the line also was outstanding...Customers weren't the only ones who were excited by the game. Russ Winnie, Milwaukee radio sports announcer, had Bobby Cahn kicking a field goal at one time, and later told his listeners that Gantenbein was entering the game for Wisconsin. He checked the latter error..."One of you guys should have been there," Bobby Cahn told the Detroit players who wanted intentional grounding called on a pass by Herber. Cahn's contention is that any pass that travels 20 yards or more must be intended for some receiver if the play is executed properly. If the receiver is blocked out of position, it cannot be called the passer's fault, Cahn says...The boys at the gate get the game second-handed from cheers at the sidelines and the concessioners that work back and forth. They get a less detailed report than do radio listeners, although they are right there. No matter how great the excitement, they do not leave their posts...Mrs. Ernie Smith has a noteworthy attitude on the game. When asked if she wasn't proud of her husband after the game, she said, "Not any more so than usual. Win or lose, I'm always proud of him."...The Lions' mascot, a man costumed as a lion, paraded up and down the sidelines throughout the game and helped direct the drum corps between halves. It was a jubilant lion during the first half but the king of beasts became just another cat as the game entered its final minutes...Green Bay was well represented in the grandstands again, although not quite as well as at the Cardinal game. With them, Milwaukee fans are very partisan and do all their cheering for the Packers...Johnny Blood drew a good hand from the crowd. Although he was not in uniform, he was on the Packer bench, and when he left the park early he was recognized...Frank Christensen did a fine job of punting in the first quarter with the wind at his back. For the rest of the game, however, George Sauer's booting eclipsed the best efforts of the Detroit backs...When the word broke that the Cardinals had lost their ball game, there was no holding the fans down. Most of them heard it after they were back downtown, and it was a great piece of news, received incredulously at first, but appreciated. Even a local tavern keeper, who lost a considerable sum of money on the Lions, must have enjoyed that.

LOOKING UP IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

OCT 21 (Green Bay) - Now you can reverse your field, disregard those troublesome Cardinals for the moment, and turn your attention to Chicago, where another of those titanic struggles between the Packers and the Bears is in line for next Sunday. Nobody expected Pittsburgh to defeat the Cardinals, but no one expected Braddock to take Baer either, and Sunday's lacing of Detroit by the Packers sets the stage for what probably will be the greatest game of the National league season to date, at Wrigley field next Sunday afternoon. The Packers may get another miracle play, such as defeated the Bears here early this season, or they may be able to beat George Halas' team on straight football. If they do win, they'll go into first place, and you can set it down as a lead pipe fact that they'll be very, very hard to dislodge. Green Bay, of course, respects the Bears tremendously. The Chicago team has a passing attack which is as distracting as a split skirt on a bowling alley and as irritating as a mouse in a mince pie. The Bears, despite their defeat by the Packers, are still the rough, tough outfit which has been spredeagling the opposition around National league circles for several seasons. It's going to be the game of the season...We're telling you that the field goals which Tar Schwammel kicked at Milwaukee yesterday were the second and third he has made as a Packer. His total number of points on the all-time scoring list now is 10. Don Hutson boosted his total to 24 by scoring his fourth touchdown. Ernie Smith's extra point was the second he has made as a Packers...Mike Michalske led the Packers in yesterday in total tackles. He got nine. Second was Lon Evans, with eight, and then came four men with six each, Cal Hubbard, Schwammel, Hank Bruder and Clarke Hinkle. Milt Gantenbein and George Sauer each got five. Nate Barrager and Al Rose each got four...It's interesting to note that the majority of the Lions' tackles were made by backfield men, proving that the Packer ball carriers spend considerable time in the opposing secondary. Frank Christensen, halfback, led the Detroit time with 10, Buddy Parker, fullback, was second up with nine. Stacy got seven. Schneller and Hupke each was good for four, and three apiece went to Ebding, George Christensen, Caddel and Morse.
