PACKERS KNOCK OFF IRONWOOD LEGION ELEVEN, 15-0

Pro Football Season Gets Off to Fine Start; Large Crowd at Sunday's Fracas

GAME RECAP (GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE)

(GREEN BAY) - The Packers of 1924 pulled up the curtain on the pro football season at Bellevue park Sunday afternoon by defeating the Ironwood Legion eleven,15 to 0, in a hard fought exhibition of pigskin chasing before the biggest opening day crowd that ever witnessed a gridiron encounter in Green Bay. For several years Ironwood has been disputing the Packers' claim to the professional football championship of the Northwest but the Michiganders probably have tooted their horn for the last time because Captain Lambeau's team simply crushed their hopes in Sunday's game, via the forward pass route.

CLASS WILL TELL

The footballers from the Wolverine state fought to their last ditch but it wasn't quite enough. Class tells on the pro gridiron and this year's Packer outfit has plenty of the aforesaid class. So far as scoring goes, Ironwood was never dangerous. Only once did they get close to the 30-yard line and, then, Eagleburger missed a field goal by a city block. The invaders had a husky aggregation. There was plenty of beef in the forward line; the ends tackled mighty hard while the backfielders, particularly Mason, crashed forward at bullet-like speed. Ironwood showed little in the forward pass attack and the visitors probably didn't complete successfully more than two or three tosses during the game.

GAME CLEANLY PLAYED

It was a clean cut exhibition of football and the only two penalties handed out went against the Packers, Lambeau & company losing 15 yards for holding and another "V' for offside. The players stood the graff mighty well and, aside from Mason, who broke a couple of ribs, there were no serious injuries. Two or three times, Mathys was knocked cold but Charlie always came to and want back for more. When the Packers came on the field about 2:15, they were given a thunderous reception. The crowd gathered early. When the gates were opened at one o'clock, the fans were standings in line, waiting to buy tickets. It was a big Green Bay turnout. It just seemed as if everybody was there. Quite a sprinkling of outsiders helped swell the gathering, which comfortably filled the park. The additional bleacher seats on the east side of the gridiron were filled to capacity long before the whistle blew.

BAYS' GREATEST TEAM

The Packers lived up to advance notices about being the greatest team that Green Bay ever put on the gridiron. True enough some of the plays did not work out as scheduled but another week of practice will see the Packers in fighting trim to have it out with the famous Chicago Bears. The new Packers came in for a lot of attention from the crowd. Hendrian proved to be a "bear" at fullback and he sure hits 'em hard. Tillie Voss looked like a million dollars at one end while Milton and Dick O'Donnell did everything that was asked of them at the other extremity of the forward wall. Lewellen, former Nebraska captain, showed his class at half during the first half. He grabbed one pass from Lambeau that was a beauty. Rosatti got in the game for the second half and he spilled him pretty at tackle. Ludtke and Hearnden worked well while in the battle. Buland and Beasey, two of the other Packer regulars, were kept on the sidelines due to minor injuries.

VETERANS STILL THERE

The veterans of the Packer squad kept pace with the newcomers. Captain Lambeau played wonderful football on the offense and he was passing in midseason form while his defensive work was superb. Charlie Mathys never looked better and the way he grabbed Lambeau's tosses opened the eyes of the Michiganders. Basing scored both of the Packers' touchdowns. He sure was a demon on the attack. Wally Neimann displayed all his old craft at center while Woodin and Gardner were in there every way at the guards. Jug Earps put in the first half at tackle and then moved over to center. He was a tower of strength in each position. Cub Buck looked bigger than ever at left tackle and he appeared to enjoy himself immensely as he smeared up the Ironwood attack. Getting back to the game itself, the team started off fast. A forward pass early in the first quarter put the ball well into Ironwood's territory. Buck blew a field goal and Ironwood soon booted out of danger. The Packers piled up some yardage and then Buck got off a long punt. This backed the visitors up near their goal line. A pass, Gardner to Harris, went bad and Ironwood was forced to cover behind the goal line. This was a safety and gave the Packers a two point safety. MASON MAKES GAINS

For the remainder of the quarter, the pigskin see-sawed back and forth with little advantage to either team. Mason, the Ironwood half, plunged through for several good gains. Early in the second quarter, the visitors got a couple of first downs and it was the only time they were in the Packers' backyard. Their spurt ended when Eagleburger missed a field goal from about 35 yards. The Packers picked up speed after this and soon Ironwood was beating a hasty retreat. Forward passes were doing the trick and it wasn't long before the big Bay Blues had the ball within scoring distance. With but a minute to go, Buck again fizzled a placekick and, after another scrimmage, halftime was called. At the start of the second half, Captain Lambeau made two changes in the lineup. Basing replaced Lewellen at half; Earps moved over to center and Rosatti took Jug's tackle. The Packers soon began hitting on all eleven. The air drive had Ironwood badly worried, and there was good reason for the Bay eleven was marching down the

YELL FOR TOUCHDOWN

The crowd began yelling for a touchdown. And they were not disappointed. With the pigskin resting about 5 yards from the Ironwood goal, Basing cut over behind left tackle for a score. Buck kicked the goal. The next score came quicker. Shortly after the kickoff, Lambeau shot a forward pass into Basing's arms and the Packer backfielder started his dash for a score. He shook off two of the enemy and, thanks to some splendid blocking by several of his teammates, romped over for a touchdown. Buck's attempt for a goal kick was blocked. These two scores sort of took the wind out of Ironwood's sails and, for the remainder of the game, they played on the defensive. Several times, it seemed as if the Packers were headed for another marker but the fates ruled otherwise. Dutch Hendrian attempted a dropkick in the last quarter from about 40 yards. It was headed straight for the uprights but fell short by five feet. During the last quarter, changes were made in the Packer lineup but the Green Bay forward march continued just the same.

CHICAGO BEARS PLAY PACKERS HERE NEXT SUNDAY

SEPT 16 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Bears are coming here Sunday. This means as much to the football fans as the world's greatest circus does to the youths of the short pants age. "Wait until next year." That was the thought of some 4,000 followers of the Packer team last fall when George Halas and his tribe of Bruins walked off with a horseshoe, 3 to 0 victory, over the big Bay Blues...SUNDAY AT BELLEVUE PARK: Well, the time is close at hand. Sunday, the Windy City footballers will give battles to the Packers at Bellevue park. It is one of the biggest games of the season at home. If the Packers can hurdle this obstacle, they will be headed straight for national honors on the gridiron. Last season, when the Bears played here, about 4,200 jammed Bellevue park and a bigger crowd is looked for on Sunday. The reserved seat tickets will be placed on sale Wednesday and those desiring seats better make their reservations immediately as the pasteboards are sure to go like hot cakes. The reservations can be made at the usual places about town...PACKERS MAKING READY: The Packer squad resumed their drill this morning and every player reported to Captain Lambeau in good shape. Buland's shoulder will be in shape long before Sunday while Basing's ankle is again in playing condition. The Packer players know what a victory in Sunday's game means and the gridders are determined to give the Bears all they are looking for and possibly a little bit more. Word has been received from George Halas, manager of the Bears, that he will bring a great team here. Many of last year's stars are again in togs. These include George Trafton, Hunk Anderson, Brute Garvey, Dutch Sternaman and many others. Little Joe Sternaman, who coached and captained the Duluth club last year, is back again with the Bears. In a letter to the Packer management, Halas had this to say: "You can tell your football fans that we will have a great machine and I am certain that we will repeat last year's success."

CAL'S COMMENTS

SEPT 16 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Packers got off to a pretty good start. As was predicted, Ironwood came here with a rough and ready aggregation. The Michiganders were perfectly willing to mix it and possibly they were in better condition than Lambeau's team due to the fact that they had had two weeks of practice and also had played one game. It was a good test for the Bay eleven and they came through with flying colors. The team resumed its practice this morning and the gang will drill daily in preparation for the Chicago Bear game here on Sunday. This contest will be a crucial test for the Packers as the Windy City aggregation is coming here determined to chalk up a victory. Last fall, the Halas crew carried horseshoes around in their pockets and nosed out a 3 to 0 win. This year it may be a different story as the Packers of 1924 can travel with the best of 'em when it comes to pigskin chasing.

STARS OF FOOTBALL WORLD TO PLAY WITH BEARS HERE ON SUNDAY AGAINST PACKERS

SEPT 17 (Chicago) - Saturday night, George Halas, manager of the Chicago Bears, will load his squad of pigskin chasers, about twenty strong, for Green Bay, Wis., where on Sunday the Chicago club will do their stuff against the Packers, who are rated as one of the best postgraduate football elevens in the country. According to reports received from the Green Bay management, a huge throng will be on hand to see the game. Last year, when the Bears played in the Packers' town, some 4,300 spectators witnessed the game. Sunday. Manager Halas is hopeful that the attendance will exceed 5,000 and it is understood that the seating capacity of the Green Bay park has been increased about eight hundred...SECOND LAST YEAR: The Bears, who finished second in the pro league, will have another splendid aggregation of footballers. Manager Halas has been beating the bushes for a couple of all star gridders of college fame and he hopes to have them in his machine this Sunday. Unless there is a shift in plans, the Bears will use George Trafton, former Notre Dame star at center. Brute Garvey and Hunk Anderson, also former pupils of Knute Rockne, will be at the guards, while Scott, former Wisconsin All American, and Dave Healy of Dartmouth are slate for duty at the tackles. Hanny, Flaherty and Halas will be the wingmen and with Usher at first substitute for line duty...STARS IN BACKFIELD: Halas has a plenty of stars in the backfield. Little Joe Sternaman, who coached and captained Duluth last season, will play quarterback while his brother, Dutch, is to perform at left half. It was Dutch Sternaman's toe in 1923 that beat the Packers, 3 to 0. Bob Knop, one of the greatest plunging backs ever turned out at Illinois, will hit the line from football, while Bill Lanum is slated for right half. He is a former conference star and is known for his sweeping end runs. Red Bryan will be the first reserve player in the backfield.

REVIEWS HISTORY OF THE PACKERS AT LIONS' CLUB MEET

SEPT 17 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - How the Green Bay Football corporation came into being and how it administers the affairs of the Packers' football team was described to the Green Bay Lions club at its weekly luncheon at the Beaumont this noon by A.B. Turnbull, president of the corporation. After the season of 1922 had ended victoriously on the gridiron but disastrously in the treasury, a meeting was called in the Beaumont hotel and the football corporation was organized. Little was done until the summer of 1923 when a stock selling corporation was successfully put on. During the following season, the Packers lost only two games, he said. The corporation is headed by a board of directors of fifteen members, with an executive committee of five, which meets every Monday morning...TELLS HOW PLAYERS WERE OBTAINED: Describing the corporation's effort to secure the best players available, Mr. Turnbull told how the corporation sent a letter this spring to every football player graduating from a western or midwestern college, and received several replies, among them that of Lewellen, star halfback of the University of Nebraska, now a member of the Packer squad. He also told of the heavy expenses the corporation has to meet in transportation, guarantees to visiting players, and rain and compensation insurance. With favorable breaks in weather, he predicted the team will finish the season financially even, despite the fact that this year's schedule is the hardest the players have ever encountered. Of 12 games, five are against teams who finished last season in the top five places in the national association...PART OF CIVIC LIFE: Answering the question, "What do the Packers do for Green Bay?", Mr. Turnbull replied that, in his opinion, they had become part of the civic life of this community. No other city of this size in the state, he said, is as interested in football as Green Bay. The team, in addition, brings Green Bay national advertising in the form of "streamer" stories on the sport pages of metropolitan dailies throughout the country, and brings visitors here from all parts of Wisconsin, upper Michigan and elsewhere. "When you get people into the habit of coming here for their sport, you will get them for business later in the week," he said.

CAL'S COMMENTS

SEPT 17 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Packer-Chicago Bear football clash is kicking up no end of interest in this part of the state and, unless all signs fail, a record breaking gathering of football fans will jam Bellevue park to overflowing when the teams start chasing the pigskin Sunday afternoon. The Bears are rated

BRING 22 PLAYERS CHICAGO-Manager George Halas of the Chicago Bears will take 22 players to Green Bay for the football game with the Packers on Sunday. The following players will make the trip: Ends: Hanny, Indiana; Mullen, Illineis; Englund, Rockford; Halas, Illindis. Tackles: Scott, Wisconsin; Blacklock, Michigan Aggles; Healey, Dartmouth: Hurst, Oregon. Guards: Anderson, Notre Dame; Garvey, Notre Dame; La Fleur, St. Norberts. as one of the greatest gridiron machines in the country. The Chicagoans' battle front is studded with stars. Every man in the Windy City lineup is a former collegian and, at least, a half dozen of them have been given All American recognition.

CAPACITY CROWD WILL WITNESS PACKER-BEAR GAME

SEPT 18 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Packer football management is making arrangements to handle the biggest crowd that ever attended a football game in Northeastern Wisconsin on Sunday afternoon at Bellevue park when the Green Bay Packers have it out with the Chicago Bears. Last year, the clash between these teams drew about 4,200 spectators and every indication points to a larger throng this Sunday. In 1923, the seating capacity of the park was about 3,700 but additional seats have been constructed and Sunday for the Bear game, it will be possible to house about 4,300 with standing room for another thousand. There will be about 300 additional grandstand seats and the management plans also to set up extra box seats near the gridiron in every possible spot. It is figured that, at least, 300 can be handled in the temporary box seats. Every effort possible will be made to take care of the fans that come here from out of town... SELLING LIKE HOT CAKES: Despite the fact that the reserved seat tickets selling like hot cakes, there will be reservations available at the box offices when they are opened at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A company of the American Legion veterans will patrol the field inside the park, while 14 of the Green Bay police force are to be stationed around the outer edge of the fence. Every effort will be made by the management to keep out the "fence jumpers" who were very much in evidence at the Ironwood game.

Packer Squad Looking Good In Practice; Players Ready for Chicago Game, Sunday

PACKER SQUAD LOOKING GOOD IN PRACTICE; PLAYERS READY FOR CHICAGO GAME SUNDAY

SEPT 18 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Several hundred football fans witnessed the Packers practice at Joannes park this morning and it was the unanimous opinion of the spectators that George Halas and his husky Bears from Chicago were going to have a job on their hands when they tackle the Big Bay Blues at Bellevue park on Sunday afternoon. Captain Lambeau's team is fit for the fray. All the players came out of the Ironwood tilt in good shape while Buland and Beasey who were on the injured list have entirely recovered from their bruises. The squad is running through their plays in superb style and there is a certain amount of pep to their work that attracts the eye of the onlookers...TWIST BRUINS' TAIL: When the Packers step on the field Sunday, they will determine to twist the Bruins' tail. A victory in this game will set the Packers at the top of the pro heap and every man on the squad can be counted on to be in there battling every minute. The Packers are not underestimating the strength of the Bears. They realize that they will face one of the greatest postgraduate teams in the country but just the same, they are hopeful of giving Halas something that will make him remember Green Bay for a long time. One thing is sure, no matter who wins, it will be the greatest exhibition of pigskin chasing that has ever been seen in this neck of the woods.

PRO FOOTBALL NOTES

SEPT 18 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Duluth gets an early start in pro football. Dunn gained fame last season when he won the Boston U game, despite his fractured arm...Duke Slater, giant negro tackle, will be back again in the Rock Island battle front. This will be the former Iowa All-American star's third football season with

COMMUNICATION Sports Editor, Press-Gazette: Sir: The fans are talking about having a cheer leader for the Packers' games, especially out of town, and it has been suggested that some yells be printed on the programs that are issued, one of them being our old battle cry "Ole Olson, Yohnny Yohnson." You might give space in your valuable paper to invite criticism, but it seems from the majority of opinion, that is what the fans want. Something to encourage the team and put Green Bay on the map when we go out of town. Another thing that has been brought up is whether or not there will be a special train leaving for the Chicago games later on, and if a committee should be appointed at this early date to find out just how many there would be to make up a train load. CAL'S COMMENTS

SEPT 19 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - A glance over the Bears' lineup shows enough gridiron stars to sparkle for a half dozen teams. Manager George Halas has rounded up an aggregation that should rank with the topnotchers in the pro circuit. The Windy City Bruins are coming here Sunday determined to hop off on the right foot at the expense of the Packers but they may home telling a different story when the final whistle blows as Captain Lambeau's club will right on edge to turn back the invaders.

BEARS AND PACKERS TO CLASH HERE ON SUNDAY

SEPT 20 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears will have it out Sunday afternoon on the gridiron at Bellevue park in what promises to be as great an exhibition of footballing as has every been seen in this part of the state. Hostilities will start promptly at 2:30 and regulation periods of 15 minute duration are scheduled. If fair weather conditions prevail, a capacity crowd will witness the pigskin exhibition. The advance seat sale has been unusually heavy and hundreds of out of towners will be here for the game...BEARS WELL KNOWN: The Bears are famed as one of the greatest football machines in the country. In 1923 they placed second in the National league race, just one notch ahead of the Packers. The Chicagoans have an all star battle front. Every man on the squad is a college graduate and, at least, half a dozen of the Windy City gridders have received All American recognition. The Bruins have what is considered the greatest forward line in the country. Trafton, center; Anderson and Garvey, guards; and Healey and Scott, tackles, make a combination hard to beat. Hanny and Halas are a pretty sweet pair of wingmen. The Sternaman brothers, Dutch and Joe, are the backfield luminaries although Bryan, Knop and Bolan are pretty hard to beat...FACE REAL AGGREGATION: It can be readily seen that the Packers will be up against the real in pigskin chasing but the big Bay Blues are some pumpkins themselves when it comes to gridiron performances. In Lambeau and Mathys, Green Bay has the best forward passing pair in professional football while all the other members of the team can hold their own with the best in the game. The Packer squad has been primed for this game and when the gang steps on the field it will be a "rarin' to go" aggregation, determined to give and Halas and his hirelings a battle that they won't forget in a long while. Good officiating is assured as Bobby Cahn is one of the best referees on the pro gridiron. Joyce of Ohio Wesleyan will umpire while Jimmy Coffeen is to be the head linesman.

SETTING UP EXTRA SEATS AT PARK AT TO HANDLE BIG CROWD

SEPT 20 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - In order to keep faith with the football fans who want to see Sunday's game between the Packers and Chicago Bears at Bellevue park, the Green Bay management had a flock of carpenters on the scene this morning setting up extra seats to handle the overflow crowd that is expected to attend. Four additional rows of seats are being added to sections E and F. This will give an additional seating capacity of 164 seats. Benches have been secured from the park board and they will be placed in the vacant space back of the sideline fence near the old baseball grandstand. There will also be a string of these benches set around the sideline fence back of the southeast corner of the gridiron. These seats will be on sale at the Press-Gazette tonight from 7:30 to 9. With these extra seats it will be possible to take care of about 4,300 spectators, seated, and also leave room for about 700 in the standing room space...STATEMENT BY MANAGEMENT: The management has issued the following statement: "If fair weather conditions prevail, the biggest crowd that ever attended a football game in Green Bay will be on hand Sunday. The sale of reserve seats has been amazing. The greater bulk of these tickets were spoken for the minute they were placed on sale. Those who can not secure reserved seats are urged to reach the park at one o'clock. This is the time the general admission tickets will be placed on sale. There are about 2,000 seats for the general admission ticket holders. Those occupying the seats are urged to 'push 'em up' and sit close together so as to seat as many as possible. Ample police protection has been secured to handle the crowd. There will be ten policemen outside the park guarding the fence, with two working inside, with a company of American Legion veterans. In addition, the motorcycle cops will handle the parking space and there will also be two other blue coats on the job at the main entrance to prevent any confusion.

CAL'S COMMENTS

SEPT 20 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Some of the aged methods of the Western Conference are coming to light again. Alonzo Stagg, Tom Jones and a few of the other so-called Big Ten brows are bitter against professional football. Why, we don't know unless they fear it will take some of the wind out of their sails and possible dollars out of their pockets...Anyway at one of their "sewing circles" a few years back, they adopted an ironclad regulation, gilt edged in the bargain, that any professional football player was banned from coaching in the conference. Two years ago George Trafton, who will play with the Bears here Sunday against the Packers, coached a year at Northwestern. Then somebody looked up his record and it was discovered that he had chased the pigskin for filthy lucre. He got the gate.
